A European Conference on Exchanging Best Practice in Arson Prevention and Investigation

15th and 16th September 2008

Northumberland Fire and Rescue Service, in partnership with Laboratoire Central de le Prefecture de Police (France) and Northumbria Police (UK) have pleasure in hosting the "Fire Crime in Europe Conference 2008" on Monday 15th and Tuesday 16th September 2008 at the Marriott Gosforth Park Hotel, Newcastle upon Tyne (UK).

Presentation and workshop sessions delivered during the conference will showcase best practice initiatives that have been successfully implemented within a number of European countries. Delegates and speakers working to prevent and/or investigate fires for Fire, Police, Forensic, Forestry, Insurance and Government Organisations across Europe are invited to attend.

The conference will represent the first key step towards the creation of a formal European network of arson prevention and investigation specialists. By increasing the exchange of information between European countries, the conference has the potential to help reduce the number and severity of criminal fires set annually in Europe.
